OVERALL ANALYSIS

Overall Analysis

STRENGTHS

- Extremely quick off the ball
- Able to quickly shed blocks and get into the offensive backfield

WEAKNESSES

- Inconsistent on tackling
- Inconsistent on blocking

BOTTOM LINE

Extremely quick off the ball. Very good to excellent straight-line speed. Can close the distance between himself and the passer/runner very quickly. He didn't always chase plays to the opposite side of the field, but when the play was in front of him, he reacted extremely quickly and was able to close on the play fast. On offense, he was an efficient blocker, but tended to screen the defender more than block the defender.

BOTTOM LINE

Not all plays are shown. The field was muddy and footing looked to be challenging at times. On offense: Ran very good routes. Efficient blocking. On defense: Extremely quick off the ball. The Giants usually had to double- and triple-team him to stop him. However, that did not always work as he was so quick to get into the backfield that the backs could not always stop him. Excellent straight-line speed. Able to close the gap very quickly. Didn't always chase the play on the opposite side of the field, but was fast in making a play on his side of the field.

OFFENSE: The film did not show Green Bay on offense until the second quarter. Quick to shed a defender. Later in the second quarter, Dilweg showed very good route running abilities. Quick to make his cuts with excellent footwork. Good straight-ahead blocking. Able to push the defender back and turn him away from the play. Later in the game, he ran an excellent out route, easily beating his defender for a good gain.

DEFENSE: Dilweg lined up at the left defensive end position (between the seven-technique and nine-technique positions). He primarily faced right offensive end Glenn Campbell (#15). Extremely quick off the snap. Able to quickly get penetration into the backfield. In the second quarter, Dilweg was able to shed multiple blockers to get into the offensive backfield and pressure the passer. On the next play, he assisted of a sack of the passer (#50). Later in the quarter, Dilweg chased down the passer for a sack and large loss of yardage. Missed on a tackle, but on the next play, he chased down the runner (#0) to make the tackle. He was also in on the tackles of the runner on the next three plays, including a very hard tackle on an inside run. Dilweg had another sack later in the game. From a two-point stance, he used his speed to quickly get to the passer and sack him before he had a chance to escape. Later in the game, Dilweg shot into the backfield to tackle the runner from behind for no gain.
